29 St. Olave's Walk

London SW16 5QQ

4th October 2010

Dear

It is with regret that we have to inform you of the death on 29th September, the Feast of St Michael and All Angels, of Revd. Roy Brenchley. For some months he had lived with a cancer of the oesophagus and he spent the last days of his life in the care of St Raphael's Hospice, North Cheam.

His funeral will comprise a Requiem Mass in St Olave's Church, Church Walk, London SW16 5JH, at 1 p.m. on Thursday 21st October, followed by Committal at the South London Crematorium, Rowan Road, London SW16 5JG. Light refreshments will be available in Church after the Committal.

We ask that no flowers be sent, but suggest that, should you so desire, donations to the Hospice would be a worthy offering in Fr Roy's memory. Gift Aid Envelopes for donations will be available on 21st October, and you can send a donation payable to "St Raphael's Hospice" via J B Shakespeare Ltd., 67 George Street, Croydon CR0 1LD.

Fr Roy insisted that there should be no eulogy at the Requiem Mass. He also wanted his estate to pay for a meal for the church congregation and any others who wished to attend; therefore, the Parish Mass at 10.00 a.m. on Sunday 24th October will commemorate his life and be followed by a lunch in the Church Hall.

May he rest in peace and rise in glory.

Yours sincerely,

Keith Penny
